

No Freak Technology™

this is our clever absorbent layer that is 100% natural and acts to absorb fluid. This fabric also inhibits bacterial growth and odours keeping you fresh all day.

this is our special 'No Freak Technology™' that wicks moisture away from your private parts and keeps you feeling dry down there. It also inhibits bacterial growth and odours.

this is a polyurethane fabric that will stop any leaks. It is also coated with SILVADUR™ which inhibits the growth of odour and infection-causing bacteria.

BRAND STORY

Mynickerbot makes period-proof knickers that are fun and comfy, not bulky or obvious!

Mynickerbot was born from two Aussie mums wanting to make life easier for their tween daughters for school camps, sleep overs, sporting events and from ever being worried sick about leaking or unexpected surprises.

Hence the trademark No Freak Technology™.

Born from the belief you should be able to feel cute, confident, comfortable, secure and free to do what you want during any time of the month.

Even more, the belief that having a monthly period should not harm the environment with disposable sanitary products, and all the chemicals and packaging that go with them.

Mynickerbot has partnered with the Homeless Youth project to make sure that teenage girls in need are looked after with their specialised re-usable underwear.
